RETURN POLICY

Customers have the right to withdraw from their purchase within 14 calendar days from the date the order is received, in accordance with applicable consumer law.

To exercise the right of withdrawal, the customer must inform Coins2140 within this 14-day period. The item must then be returned securely and in the same condition in which it was received.

The exact coin purchased must be returned. Certified coins must be returned in their original NGC, PCGS or other certification holder, without the holder having been opened, altered or damaged.

If the customer exercises the right of withdrawal simply because they have changed their mind, the customer is responsible for the cost and risk of the return shipment. We strongly recommend using a tracked and appropriately insured shipping method.

Once the returned item has been received and its condition verified, the corresponding refund will be processed. The refund will include the original standard shipping cost where required by applicable law. Any additional cost resulting from the customer choosing a more expensive shipping method than the standard option offered will not be refunded.

Coins2140 may withhold the refund until the returned item has been received or until the customer provides evidence that it has been shipped back, where permitted by applicable law.

If the return is due to an error by Coins2140, an incorrect item, or a material discrepancy between the item received and its description, Coins2140 will bear the reasonable return shipping costs.

Any reduction in value resulting from handling beyond what is necessary to inspect the item may be taken into account in accordance with applicable law.
